"Talk Logic with acquaintance that you have;
And practice Rhetoric in your common talk;
Music and Poetry, use to quicken you;
The Mathematics and the Metaphysics:
Fall to them as you find your stomach serves you:
No profit grows where is no pleasure ta'en:
In brief, sir, study what you most affect."—W. SHAKESPEARE.

"No Public Library in the United States ought to be without a department exclusively appropriated to American Books. American Arts, Sciences, and Literature, may be said to be in their infancy, but from all appearances in no great length of time they will assume an important and perhaps a preponderating influence in the career of human progress. Commerce, foreign and domestic, is spreading and augmenting with a rapidity unprecedented. Agriculture, manufacture, fishing, and mining, present a degree of activity and prosperity that throws into the shade the fables of antiquity. Rail-roads have been extended and spread over the country, like cob-webs; canals have connected seas and lakes, forming chains of water communication for thousands of miles—a task at one time thought impossible; the telegraph wires conveying intelligence from one end of the Union to the other, in a few hours. To swell the tide, thousands upon thousands of the hardiest peasantry and artisans of Europe, are daily landing upon the American shores. Then to a people aspiring to govern themselves, the great sheet anchor of their safety is the education of the masses; and this can be effected only by and through books. If men are only true to themselves and their posterity, what must be the result."—Western Memorabilia.

- BUNYAN, JOHN. The Pilgrims' Progress from this World to that which is to come. With remarkable engravings. 18mo. pp. 166. $3 00. Boston, 1744.
- This is without doubt the first American edition of the world renowned "Pilgrims' Progress," and the engravings must be amongst the first, if not the very first specimen of American engraving.*
- BURGH, JAMES. Political Disquisitions ; or an Inquiry into Public Errors, Defects, Abuses, illustrated and established upon Facts and Remarks extracted from a variety of Authors Ancient and Modern. Calculated to draw the timely attention of Government and People to a due Consideration of the necessity, and the means of Reforming the Errors, Defects and Abuses ; of Restoring the Constitution and Saving the State. 3 vols. 8vo. $5 00. London, 1774.
- Burgh's Political Disquisitions are said to have produced a great effect upon the mind of the American colonists during the Revolution. It was published in Philadelphia during the struggle, and extensively circulated throughout the country. Copies of this rare American edition may occasionally be found in the libraries of old American families. On a certain occasion, in my summer wanderings through the lower parts of New Jersey, I fell in with a copy of the American edition ; it appeared to be printed on dark brown paper, bound in a very coarse, uncouth style, and altogether had a very primitive appearance.—Western Memorabilia,*

- *** John Clayton, the eminent Virginian Botanist, came to America in 1705, then 20 years of age. His father was Attorney-General of Virginia, and he was Clerk of Gloucester County for 51 years. During his old age he made a botanical tour through Orange county, and it is believed, he visited most if not all the settled parts of Virginia. His residence was about 20 miles from Williamsburgh. He was a man of high moral character, as well as an esteemed Naturalist. As*
- a proof of this, see his correspondence with Linnæus, Gronovius and others. He left behind him two volumes of manuscripts, neatly prepared for the press, and a hortus siccus of folio size, with marginal notes, and directions for the engraver in preparing plates for his proposed work. He also published several treatises on Tobacco. But he is chiefly known to the learned in Europe by his Flora Virginia, published by Gronovius at Leyden, in 8vo., 1739, 1743; and again, in 4to., 1762. He died Dec. 15, 1773, aged 87.—See Allen's Am. Biog. Dict. Barton's Medical and Physical Journal, &c., &c.*

- GREY, ZACHARY. An Impartial Examina-

- tion of the third volume of Mr. Daniel Neal's History of the Puritans. In which the Reflections of that author, upon the Blessed Martyr, King Charles the first, are proved to be groundless; his misrepresentations of the conduct of the Prelates of those times fully detected; and his numerous mistakes in history and unfair way of quoting, exposed to public view. With a large Appendix of Letters and Papers, &c., &c. Very rare. 8vo. pp. 547. $5 00. London, 1737.
- GRIFFIN, AUGUSTUS. Griffin's Journal. First Settlers of South. The names of the heads of those families, being only thirteen at the time of their landing; First Proprietors of Orient; Biographical Sketches, &c., &c., &c. Portrait. 12mo. pp. 312. $2 00. Orient, L. I., 1857.

- GROS, JOHN DANIEL. Natural Principles of Rectitude, for the conduct of Man in all States and Situations of Life, demonstrated and explained in a Systematic Treatise on Moral Philosophy. 8vo. pp. 456. $1 00. New York, 1795.
- This is believed to be the first treatise on Moral Philosophy written and published in America. The author was professor of that science in Columbian college, and the treatise was no doubt intended as a text book for the young men attending his class.*

- HAMILTON, GENERAL ALEXANDER. Observations on certain Documents contained in Nos. v. and vi of the History of the United States for the year 1796, in which the charge of Speculation against Alexander Hamilton (late Secretary of the United States), is fully refuted. Written by himself. 8vo. pp. 95. In fine preservation. Uncut copy. $5 00. Philadelphia, 1797.
- The contents of the above pamphlet has not been included in the late collected edition of General Hamilton's works. It contains information which had much better been concealed from the public eye, on account of the memories of the great and the good. It has become exceedingly scarce, so much so, that when a copy appears at any public sale it is sure to draw such a degree of competition, that it has been sold for incredible prices.*

INDIAN TRIBES OF NORTH AMERICA and their History, with Biographical Sketches and Anecdotes of the principal Chiefs. By McKenny and Hall. With 120 large and beautifully colored portraits of the Chiefs, from the Indian Gallery in the Department of War at Washington. Complete in 3 vols. Imperial folio. Handsomely half bound, morocco, gilt back and gilt edges. New. Pub. at $120 00 in parts. $100 00. Philadelphia, 1838.

Some years ago Col. McKenney obtained from Government permission to take copies of the Indian portraits deposited in the War Department, with a view to publication in lithograph. The design was accomplished on a large scale, and the folio edition is valued, both in Europe and America, as one of the most interesting and magnificent properties of a rich man's library. The biographies, written by Col. McKenney and James Hall, Esq., of Cincinnati, are sufficiently copious and drawn from the most authentic sources. One of those in the first number is that of Sequoyah, or George Guess, the inventor of the Cherokee alphabet; a remarkable man, having in his character and appearance much more of the Oriental than of the American red man. Another portrait of great interest is that of an Osage woman; a face remarkable for beauty and intelligent expression.

INDIANS. Catlin's Notes of Eight Years' Travels and Residence in Europe, with his North American Indian collection. INGLIS, CHARLES. An Essay on Infant Baptism; in which the Right of Infants to the Sacrament of Baptism is proved from Scripture. 8vo. pp. 187. Very rare. $5 00. New York, 1768.

Mr. Inglis was a native of Pennsylvania. In early life he appears to have been a teacher in the free school at Lancaster, in that state. He afterwards went to England, and was admitted to holy orders by the Bishop of London; and there he appears to have been employed by the Society for the Promotion of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, as a missionary for the colonies of North America. He returned to Dover, Del., July 1, 1759; here he resided and labored six years, and during that time baptized 750 children and 23 adults. In 1765 he arrived in New York, and was employed as the assistant to Dr. Auchmuty, Rector of Trinity church. On the 30th of March, 1777, he was unanimously elected as Rector of the parish of Trinity, in place of Dr. Auchmuty, lately deceased. On the Bishop of London being informed of his election as rector, he approved of the act in the following words: "I highly applaud your choice of the Rev. Charles Inglis, to succeed the late worthy Dr. Auchmuty in the rectory of Trinity church, New York, by which choice have done yourself great honour, and most effectually provided for the welfare and interest of your church and congregation; as I know Mr. Inglis to be a person of the most eminent abilities, of great judgment, integrity and piety, of unshaken loyalty, and firm perseverance in his duty, as he has fully shown by his late exemplary behaviour in the severest trials, by which he has merited the highest honours which his country has to bestow upon him." On the 1st of November, 1783, he resigned his charge of Trinity parish. Being a strong loyalist, he emigrated to Nova Scotia, and was created bishop of the diocese, for his fidelity. He died in the spring of 1816, aged 82 years. His son succeeded him as bishop of the same diocese, in 1825; and it may be interesting to know that his grandson, Col. Inglis, was the gallant and victorious defender of Lucknow, in India, in the fall of 1857.

Very rare. $3 00. London, 1677.
- Samuel Lee was one of the ejected Nonconformist ministers at the restoration of Charles I; afterwards finding the liberties of his native country nearly extinguished by the accession of James the Second, he shortly after that event emigrated to America about 1686, and settled in Bristol, Rhode Island. Here he continued for three years, but on hearing of the glorious revolution in his native country by William, Prince of Orange, assuming power, in the year 1688, he set out with his family in the dead of winter, for England. They had a stormy passage, and when off the coast of Ireland, were all taken prisoners by a French Privateer, and carried to St. Malo, where he died of a fever on account of his confinement in prison. He was the author of a number of volumes and pamphlets. For an account of his life, see Dr. Calamy's Nonconformists' Memorial, 2 vols. London, 1775.*

- LEGGETT, WILLIAM. Leisure Hours at Sea; being a few Miscellaneous Poems, by a Midshipman of the United States Navy. 12mo. pp. 144. $5 00. Very rare. New York, 1825.
- William Leggett wrote two volumes of poems, the one unprocurable, and the other nearly as scarce. Of the one, the mechanical parts of the work was wholly done by his own hands, that is to say, he was at once compositor, printer and binder; which laborious task he achieved in 1820, or near that date, while residing in the state of Illinois. This volume is without doubt the first production of the muse that appeared in the then new state, and consequently a literary curiosity. He it was that brought Edwin Forest prominently and favorably before the public, through his literary periodical, entitled the Critic. He was at one time co-editor of the Evening Post with Mr. Bryant, the poet. During the co-partnership they had a violent political controversy with the editor of the Courier and Enquirer, wherein many epithets were used on both sides not very honorable to either party; the Courier dubbed them the "chaunting cherubs of the Post," which name they retained for a long time among other journalists throughout the country. He afterwards left the Post and commenced a paper of his own, entitled the "Plain Dealer," wherein the peculiar characteristics of the editor were prominently displayed. This paper lived for the short space of about one year or a little more. After this he was appointed by President Van Buren, American Minister to Central America, but immediately before the time appointed for his departure on this mission, he was suddenly taken ill, and died at New Rochelle, in the vicinity of New York, May 29, 1839.*

- Murray, the author of Sermons to Asses, was a ferocious republican in sentiment, as well as a hearty teacher of that doctrine to others even from the pulpit. He took every opportunity to annoy the government by invective and satire. His far famed sermons are especial specimens of his attacks upon the state dignitaries, both temporal and spiritual. He was an ardent friend of the American revolution, and wrote a history of that transaction which is still looked upon as a performance of considerable merit, and no small authority. His Sermons to Asses were printed in Philadelphia during the revolution. They present a curious specimen of the art of printing at that time, in the American capital. It is somewhat remarkable that in no Biographical Dictionary that I have consulted, is the name of this singular man to be found.—Western Memorabilia.*

- This periodical may be considered the organ of infidelity throughout the United States, during its existence, and the editors and proprietors the high priests of the peculiar doctrines therein taught. They held high sway among the brotherhood for a long time, but of latter years its dominion has been perceptibly fading away from among and over the faithful, and even their fiercest opponents have ceased to sound the alarm of danger. One of the three is now mingling with the clods of the valley; another has become politician in general, and American ambassador in particular; and a third pursuing the honorable calling of a tiller of the ground—that is to say, cultivating the sandy plains of New Jersey.*

NEW YORK DIRECTORY, THE. Containing the Names of Citizens, their occupations and places of abode; the members of Congress, from what State and where residing; a valuable and well calculated Almanac. With a plan of the city of New York, as it then appeared, &c., &c. Compiled by David Franks. 18mo. pp. 82. $1 00.

New York, 1786. Reprinted 1851.

The above is a facsimile reprint of the first New York City Directory. It has now become very interesting, as nothing can show better at one glance, the vast improvements in the city, than the comparing of this directory with the one last published. The first like a new born infant, the second like a great overgrown giant. The inhabitants then numbered about 4,000, now about 800,000; and this all in the space of seventy years. The limit of the buildings of the city then was in Broadway at the head of Pearl street; now the high bridge that conveys the Croton water over the Harlem river, that supplies the city with water, a distance of eleven miles from Castle Garden.

PATENT OFFICE REPORTS; or the Reports of the Commissioners of Patents, for the United States, from 1841 to 1856, both inclusive. 38 vols. 8vo., in various bindings. Stitched cloth and half binding. $50 00. Washington, 1841-56.

The act of congress, March 3, 1837, requires the Commissioner of Patents to lay before Congress, in the month of January annually, a detailed statement of the expenditures and payments made by him from said period; he is also required to add a list of Patents granted and expired. The first Report was made in 1837, by Commissioner Elsworth; from this time to 1840, inclusive, these Reports accompanied the President's Message, forming an Appendix to the same. From 1840 the Reports were published in a separate form, having become too bulky to accompany the Message. The Report for 1843 having become much larger than its predecessors, to it was first appended a list of the claims of the Patents issued. This list was published in the form of an Appendix, until 1849-50, when it was embodied in the Report, and has so continued ever since. By act March 3, 1849, the Commissioner was required to add to his Report, the Agricultural Department. Previous to 1849-50 the Mechanical and Agricultural Departments of the Report, were published in one volume; since that time the volumes have annually appeared. The Report for 1853 was the first in which the Patents issued were illustrated by cuts. The Illustrations were first commenced in the Polytechnic Journal, which has since been discontinued. Hereafter it is intended to illustrate the Reports with suitable Engravings, which will render them truly valuable documents. For part of the above information, I am indebted to J. M. Phin, Esq., Solicitor of Patents, W. G.

STROUD, GEORGE M. A Sketch of the Laws relating to Slavery, in the several States of the United States of America. 8vo. pp. 180. $5 00. Philad., 1827.

The Author of the above book, like the Amazon of old, who had given birth to a numerous progeny, afterwards regretted the circumstance of their ever having been called into existence; in order to remedy the supposed evil, she set to work to destroy her own offspring, as far as possible. So also did the Author of this book; he has done all he could to annihilate and bury in oblivion his meritorious production, because he thinks it will prove offensive to his slaveholding brethren of the south.

their Language, Religion, Laws and Customs; the first Planters, the Dutch, Swedes and English; with the number of its inhabitants. As also, a touch upon George Keith's New Religion, in his second change since he left the Quakers. With a map of both countries. 12mo. pp. 100. $1 50. (Reprint New York, 1848.) London, 1698.

\** Thomas' Historical and Geographical account of Pennsylvania and West New Jersey may also be named as one of the few privately printed books that have appeared in America. This book was lithographed as a facsimile of the original, which had become so scarce, that copies have brought at public sales as high as seventeen dollars. It is esteemed as a book of historical authority respecting the early settlements of both Pennsylvania and New Jersey. This edition was got up by and at the expense of James Austin Brady, Esq., for distribution among his book-loving friends, and taken altogether, may be regarded as a literary curiosity. The publisher was, from an early age, an indefatigable book collector, especially of native American literature, and had amassed a rare and extraordinary library for one who, at the time of his death, was but little over thirty years of age. It was sold by auction by Bangs Brothers & Co., at their sales rooms 13 Park place, in the fall of 1855, and realized between four and five thousand dollars, an amount it is supposed far above its original cost. He was one of the unfortunate passengers that perished in the ill-fated steamship Arctic, which was lost on or near the banks of Newfoundland in the month of September, 1854, when nearly all on board, numbering between two and three hundred, miserably perished. He had purchased while in London many valuable works intended as additions for his library, and had shipped them on board the Arctic; of course these were lost at the same time.*

This author was one of the broad-brim family, and must have emigrated with, or shortly after William Penn did, to America. No traces of his biography can now be obtained beyond what is found in his own book, of his labors. He says: "I have endeavour'd to persuade the poor, the idle and the lazy, and the vagabonds of these kingdoms and of Wales, to hasten thither, that they may live plentifully and happily, and I doubt not but they will harken to it."—Western Memorabilia.

By William Grimshaw. 2 vols. 8vo. With Frontispieces in each vol. Cloth. pp. 602 and 599. $2 00. New York, 1852.

CORRESPONDENT, THE. An Infidel Periodical. Edited by George Houston. 5 vols. 8vo. bds. $5 00.

New York, 1829-31.

GARDINER, WILLIAM. The Music of Nature; or an attempt to prove that what is passionate and pleasing in the art of Singing, Speaking, and Performing upon musical instruments, is derived from the sounds of the animated world, with curious and interesting illustrations. 8vo. Cloth. pp. 505. $2 00. Boston, 1856.

TAYLOR, W. B. S. History of the University of Dublin (founded by Queen Elizabeth), its origin, progress and present condition; with Biographical Notices of many Eminent Men educated therein. Illustrated by Views of its Buildings, and the Academic Costumes, &c., worn in this venerable seat of learning. 8vo. Cloth. pp. 559. $1 50. London, 1845.

TOOKE, JOHN HORNE. Æpea Pterocenta; or the Diversions of Purley. With numerous additions from the copy prepared by the author for republication. To which is annexed his letter to John Dunning, Esq. Revised and corrected, with additional notes, by Richard Taylor. 8vo. Cloth. pp. 793. $3 00.

London, 1857.

RUSH, JAMES. The Philosophy of the Human Voice, embracing its Physiological

- History, together with a system of Principles, by which criticism of the art of Elocution may be rendered intelligible, and instruction definite and comprehensive. To which is added a brief analysis of Song and Recitation. 8vo. Cloth. pp. 559. $2 25. Philad., 1855.
- LIVIUS. T. Livii Patavini Historiarum Libri, qui supersunt omnes et Deperditorum Fragmenta, ex recensione Arn. Drakenborchii ad codicum Bambergensis et Vindobonensis Fidem passim Reficta a Ioanne Theophilo Kreyssig. Annotationes Crevierii, Strothii, Ruperti, Aliorumque Selectas; Animadversiones Nieburhii, Wachsmuthii, et suas addidit Travers Troiss. I. C. B. 4 vols. 8vo. Cloth. $5 00. Oxonii, 1840.
- LAYARD, AUSTEN H. Discoveries in the Ruins of Nineveh and Babylon; with Travels in Armenia, Kurdistan and the Desert. Being the result of a second expedition undertaken for the trustees of the British Museum. With maps, plans and illustrations. 8vo. Cloth. pp. 709. $3 00. New York, 1853.
- TELEMACHUS. Adventures of. Translated by Hawkesworth. Embellished with upwards of 100 engravings. 8vo. Cloth. Gilt. pp. 402. $1 25. London.
- DUNLAP, JOHN. History of Roman Literature, from its Earliest Period to the Augustan age. 2 vols. in 1. 8vo. Half cloth. pp. 700. $2 00. Philadelphia, 1827.
- POLSON, ARCHER. Principles of the Law of Nations. With practical Notes and supplementary Essays on the Law of Blockade and on Contraband of War. To which is added Diplomacy, by Thos. Hartwell Horne, B. D. 12mo. Cloth. pp. 132. $1 00. London, 1848.
- SATIRIST, THE, or Monthly Meteor. 14 vols. 8vo. From 1807 to 1814. Half calf. (Published at £7 15s.) Only $28. Very scarce. 1807-1814.
- A complete set of this once celebrated magazine, with nearly all the folding Caricature plates, by Geo. Cruikshank (his earliest works), and others. Seldom occurring for sale. Lowndes says it was started in 1807, and ended in 1812; this, as will be seen, is incorrect. We suspect that this work was too scarce for him personally to examine it.*
- COLLIER'S, J., Ecclesiastical History of Great Britain, from the First Planting of Christianity to the end of the reign of King Charles II. New edition, with Life of the Author. 9 vols. 8vo. Cloth. $16 00. 1852.
- This celebrated work contains not only much information not to be found in Mosheim, but many curious particulars relative to the theological publications of the sixteenth century.*
- STOBO, MAJOR ROBERT. Memoirs of, of the Virginia Regiment. With map. 18mo. Cloth. pp. 92. 50 cts. Pittsburgh, 1854.
- Stobo was a native of Scotland, in early youth emigrated to Virginia. He fought in the French war under Gen. Braddock, and in company of Capt., afterwards Gen. Washington. When or where he died is not known. A plan of Fort du Quesne accompanies this little biographical sketch.*
- FACCIOLATI, JACOB. Totius Latinitatus Lexicon consilio et cura Aegidii Forcellini opera et studio. Secundum Tertiam Editionem, cujus curam gessit Josephus Furlanetto, correctum et Auctum Labore variorum. Editio in Germania Prima, cum privil. reg. Saxon. 4 vols. in 2. Folio. Half russiæ. Gilt backs, neat. $22 00. Schneebærgæ, 1831.
- The author ransacked not only all the Latin writers of the several æges of Roman literature, but all the ancient grammarians, and every collection of inscriptions which had been published to his time. To each of the Latin words inserted in this new Dictionary he affixed corresponding Italian and Greek; and to render it still more complete, he subjoined to it a copious list of barbarous words, and a numerous catalogue of the writers whose works he had investigated. The performance was soon considered classical and unrivalled.—Chalmers.*
- The last century above all, produced the Thesaurus of Gesner and of Facciolati; works of so comprehensive nature, and executed with such indefatigable industry, that it may not perhaps be too much to assert, that if every other book on that subject had perished, these two alone might have supplied all the materials for an excellent treatise on Latin Synonymes.—Edinburgh Review.*
- VOLTAIRE, DE. Œuvres complètes, avec des Remarques et des Notes Historiques, Scientifique, et Littéraires. Par H. M. Angreis Clogenson, Deunou, Louis du Bois Etienne, Charles Nodier, &c. 97 vols. 8vo. Best edition. Paper covers. $60 00. Paris, 1828.
- GRONOVII & GRÆVII. Thesaurus Antiquitatum Romanarum. Congestus a J. G. Grævio. Trajecta. 1694. 12 vols. Thesaurus Antiquitatum Græcarum. Congestus a Jac. Gronovio. Lng. Bat. 1697-1702. 12 vols. Novus Thesaurus Antiquitatum Romanarum. Congestus ab Alb. H. de Sallengro. Hagæ, 1716. 3 vols. In all 27 vols. In beautiful old calf binding. Large folio. Adorned with an immense profusion of plates. $200 00

DU PIN, LEWIS E. A New Ecclesiastical History. Containing an Account of the Authors of the several books of the Old and New Testament; of the Lives and Writings of the Primitive Fathers, an abridgment and catalogue of each of their works; their various editions, and censures determining the genuine and spurious; together with a judgment upon their style and doctrine. Also, a compendious History of the Councils, with chronological tables of the whole, translated into English by W. Wolton and Cotes. 15 Tomes. Bound in 8 vols. Folio. Calf. Not uniform in binding, otherwise in good condition. Embracing a period of six hundred years. $36 00. London, 1696-1706.

"An exceedingly valuable book. It is scarcely possible to estimate the labor which it must have cost. Some title pages promise more than the works to which they are prefixed perform; this is not the case with the Bibliothèque of Du Pin; its ample title is very faithfully and ably supported. Besides being an excellent, and on the whole an impartial church history, it is literally a library of the ecclesiastical and theological writers of antiquity."—Orme.

MORERI. Le Grand Dictionnaire Historique, ou le Mélange curieux de l'Histoire Sacrée et Profane, qui contient les Vies des Patriarches, des Rois, des Pères de l'Eglise, &c., l'Histoire des Religions et des Conciles, l'Etablissement et le Progrès des Ordres Religieux et Militaires, les Généalogies des Familles Illustres de France, et des autres Pays de l'Europe, corrigé et augmenté par Drouet. 8 vols. Folio. Best edition. Half calf. Fine copy. $20 00. Paris, 1740.

Moreri's Dictionary is perhaps the most useful of all the old works of reference on historical and miscellaneous subjects, particularly Genealogy.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE. Complete from April, 1817 to 1854, both inclusive. 49 vols. half bound and corners, and 24 vols. in numbers; in all 73 vols. Partly Edinburgh and partly New York editions. $86 00.

Edinburgh, 1817; New York, 1854.
No magazine has ever enjoyed higher celebrity through the whole course of its career than Blackwood's. It is distinguished not only for the splendor of its articles on History, Politics, Biography, Poetry and General Literature, but for the number and ability of its Novels and Tales. Among the known writers are Bulwer, Alison, Lockart, Prof. Wilson, Hogg, Croker, Sir Walter Scott, Aytoun, Dr. Moir, S. Warren, and a host of others. Certainly a more general interesting and entertaining series of volumes does not exist.

BLAIR, JAMES, of Virginia. Our Saviour's Divine Sermon on the Mount Explained in divers Sermons and Discourses. 4 vols 8vo. Calf, neat. $10 00.

London, 1740.
"—— our author has, in my opinion, very aptly joined the Commentator, Preacher, and Casuist all in one . . . . how happy a talent the author had in deciding points of great moment, in a very few and plain words, but the result of deep consideration, and discovering a great compass of thought."—Dr. Waterland.

THURLOE'S Collection of State papers. By Birch. 7 vols. Folio. $20 00. 1742.
His State Papers are an excellent History of Europe during this period, and are at once a proof of Thurloe's abilities as a statesman and his excellence as a writer.—Granger.

This great work occupied the Highland Society many years, and is considered one of the most important accessions to Etymology, ever achieved in this country.

CALVINI, JOHANNIS. Opera Omnium Theologicorum. 6 vols. Thick folio. Hog-skin binding. $50 00.

Geneva, 1616.

"Luther had for his fellow-laborer in the great cause of the Scripture and of truth, one who, to equal learning and acuteness, joined a severer and more philosophic temper of mind. Calvin was accustomed to subject not only the opinions and arguments of his adversaries, but the whole body of Christian doctrine, to the most rigorous and systematic examination. His writings are never to be perused without admiration and instruction, or mentioned without respect and gratitude."—Conybeare's Bampton Lect.

WANLEY'S Wonders of the Little World; or a General History of Man. Collected from the writings of the most approved historians, philosophers, physicians, and others. New edition, with much new and curious matter, carefully selected by W. Johnston, Gent. Portraits, 2 vols. Royal 8vo. Half calf. $4 50. 1806.

"A singularly curious work, containing a vast assemblage of the most remarkable anecdotes, &c., that were ever perhaps related, and many of which keep credulity or the stretch."

LUDWICK, CHRISTOPHER. An Account of the Life of, late Baker-General of the Army of the United States during the Revolutionary War. By Benjamin Rush, M. D. First published in 1801. Revised and republished by direction of the Philadelphia Society. 12mo. pp. 61. $2 00. Very scarce.
